

Widening without Deepening?

Predicaments and Prospects in the European Constitutional Experiment

Lecture by

Ulrike Liebert

Director, Jean Monnet Centre for European Studies and
Professor of Political Science (University of Bremen, Germany)

Professor Liebert has been teaching Political Science at the University of Bremen, Germany, since 1997, where she directs the Jean Monnet Centre for European Studies. Professor Liebert actively engages in international research projects on various aspects of the European Union, including comparisons of European Parliaments and European Citizenship. She has published extensively on Women's Rights and Gendering in the EU, Policy Making, and Transnational Publics. Most recently, she has co-edited Verfassungsexperiment. Europa auf dem Weg zur transnationalen Demokratie? along with J. Falke, K. Packham, D. Allnoch (2003).

Wednesday, March 10, 2004
12:00 PM, 336 Ingraham Hall
Brownbag Lecture: Bring your lunch!

Co-Sponsored by the European Union Center

